

Monster Ocean

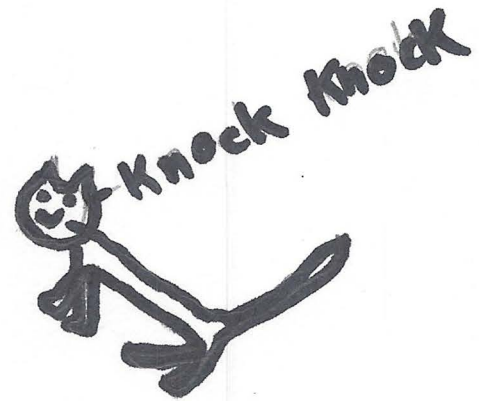

There was once a kitty named Sarah. She lived with a unicorn named Sparkles.

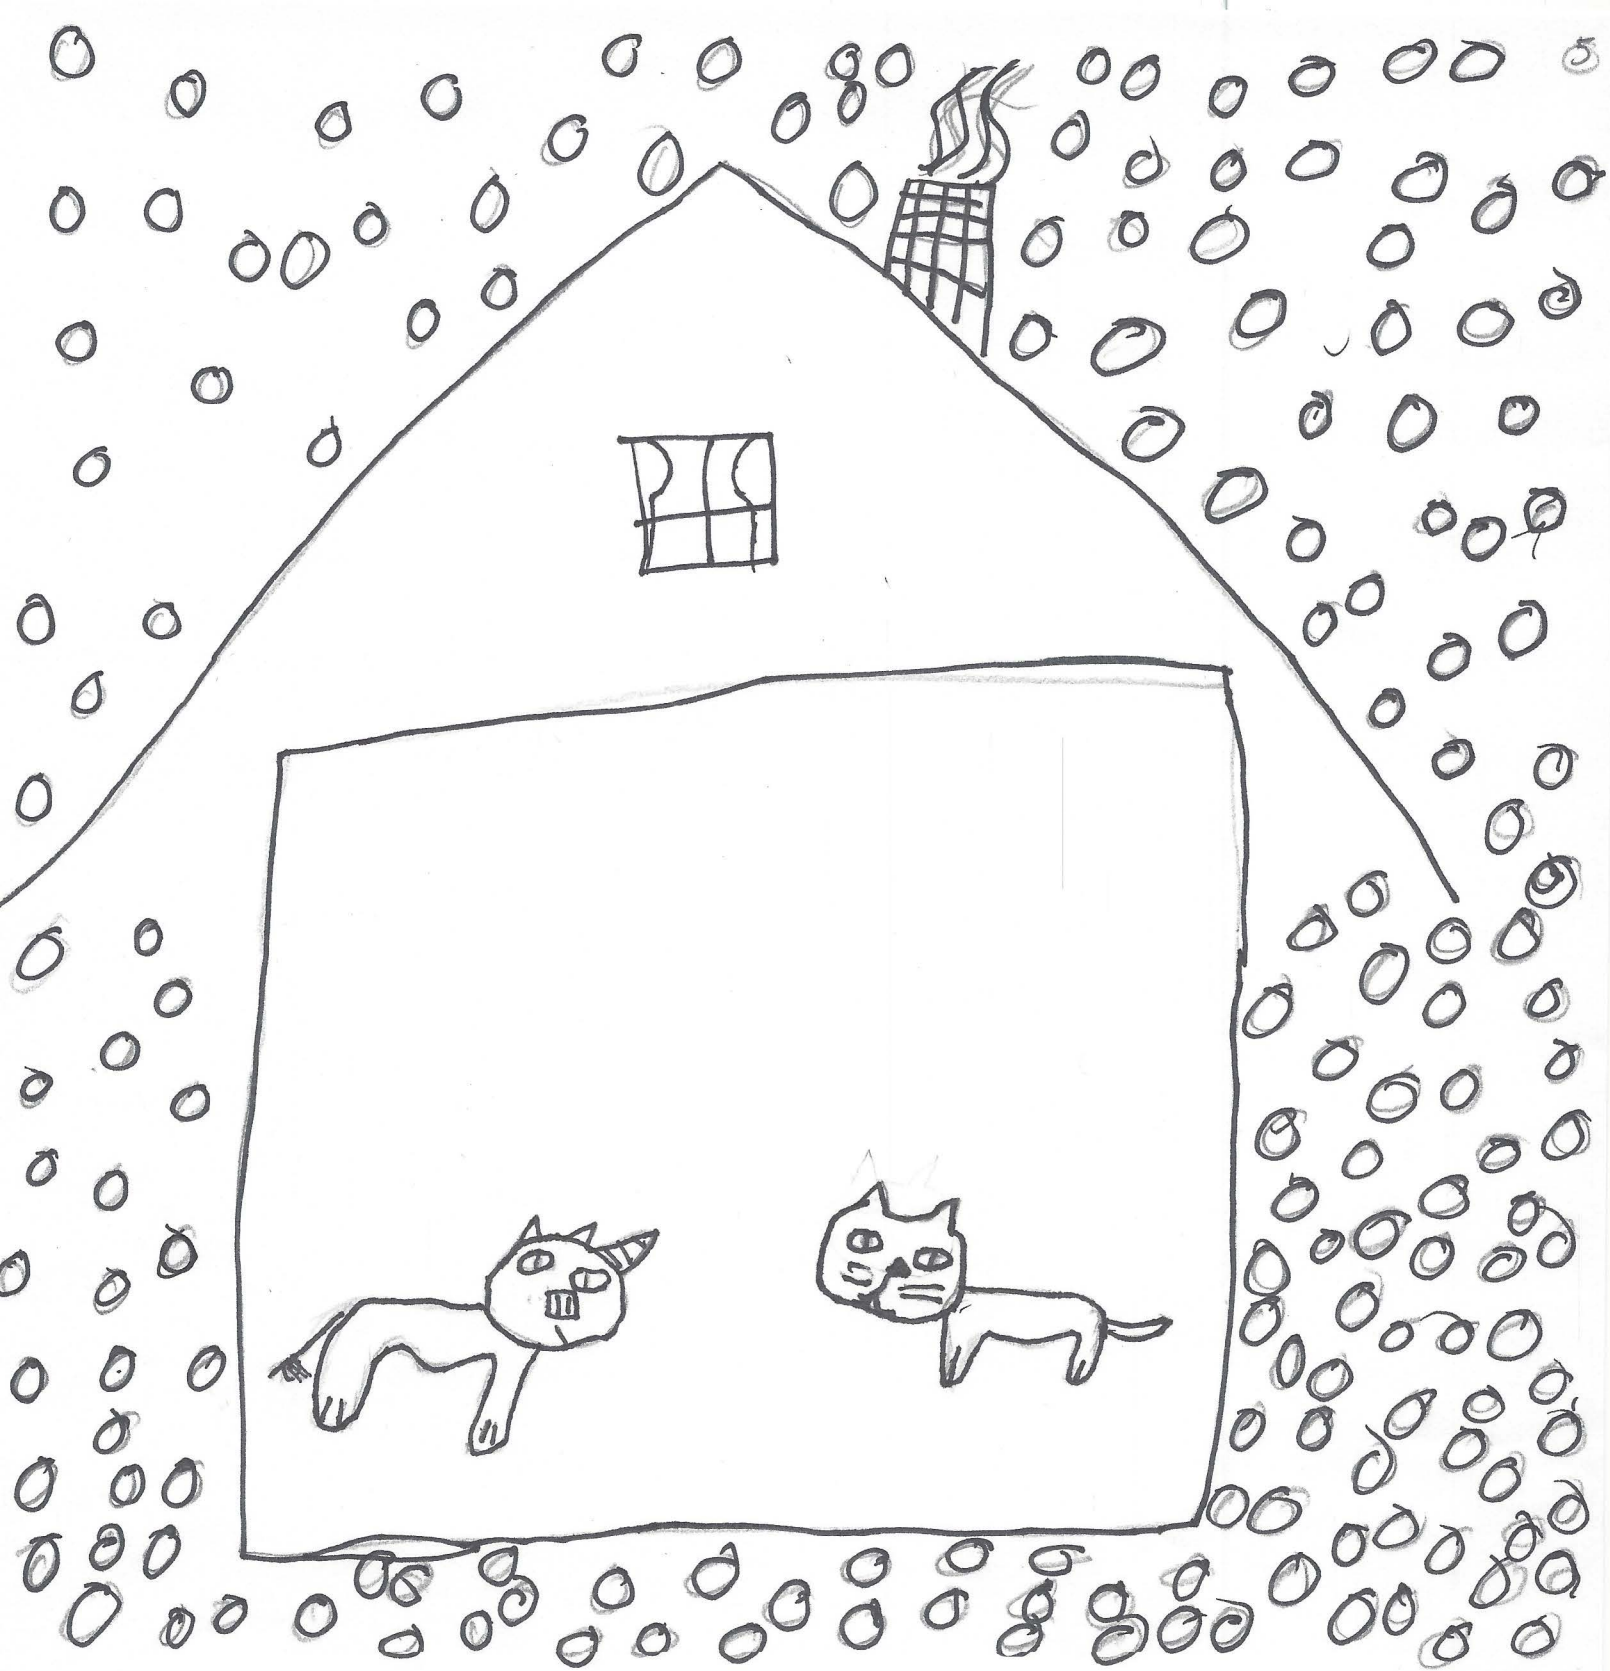

They lived in a pink castle that was as tiny as a crumb.

Sarah was really good at telling jokes. Her jokes were so funny that she made milk come out of the bear's nose.

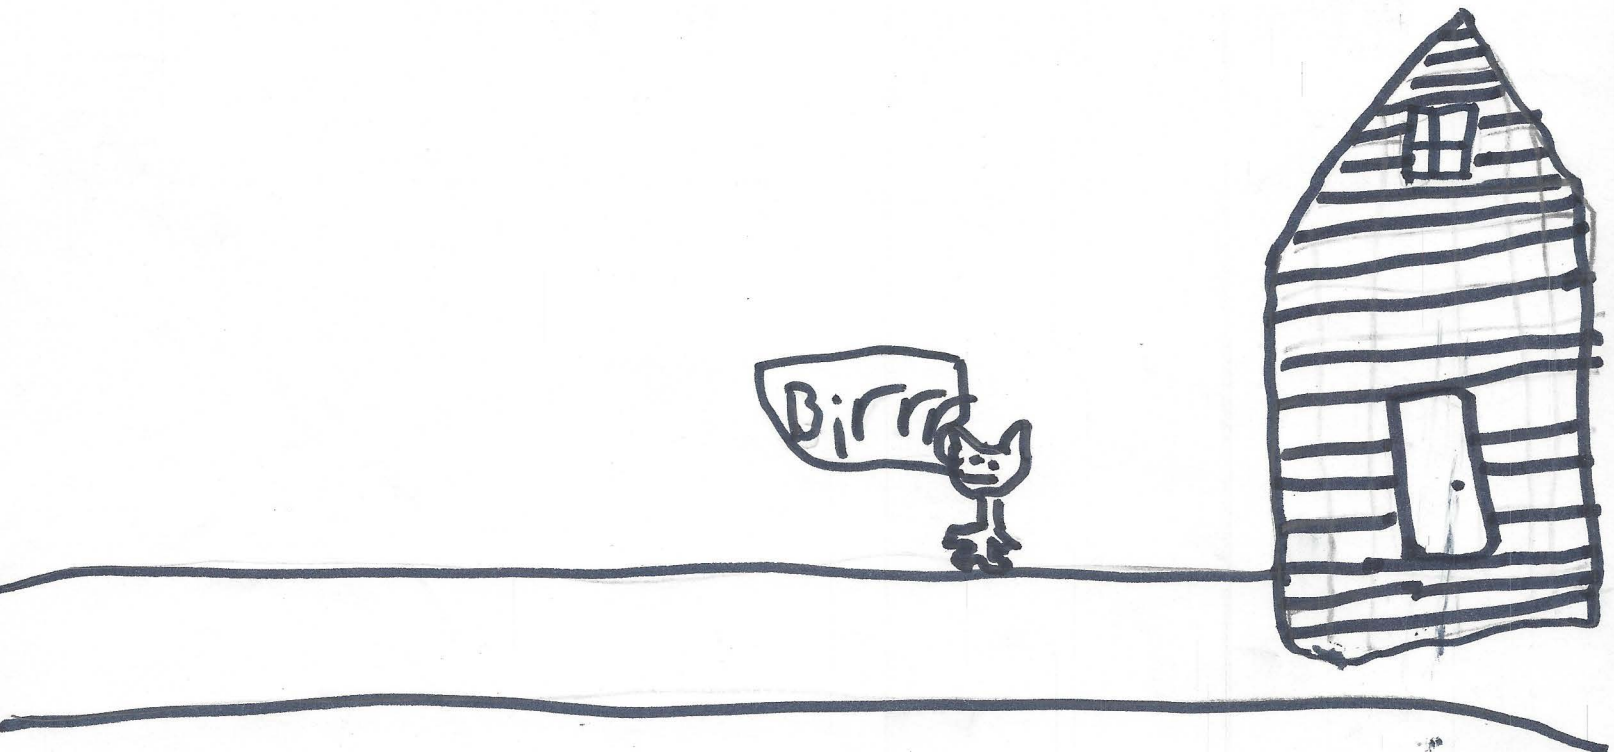

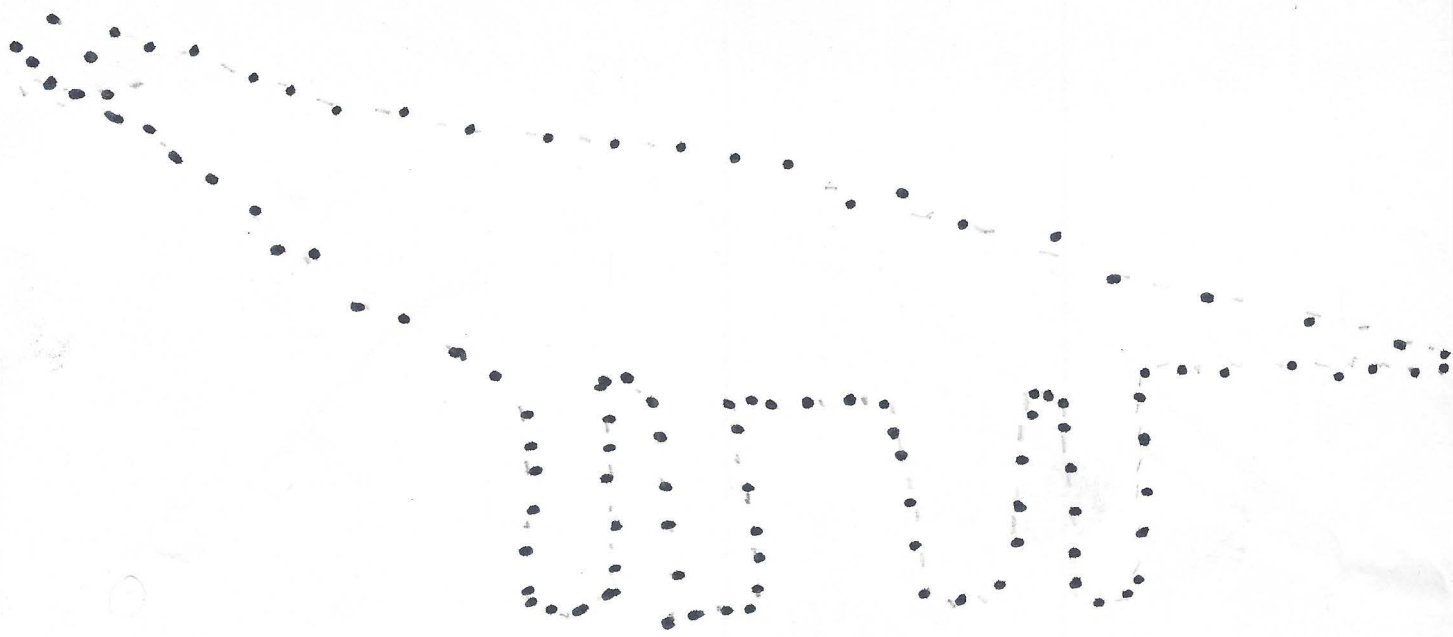

One day, Sarah and Sparkles were jumping on the couch. Sparkles needed more sparkles. She asked Sarah to go to Harley the Dragon's island to get more sparkles.

Sparkles warned Sarah, "On the way, you must not go into Monster Ocean."

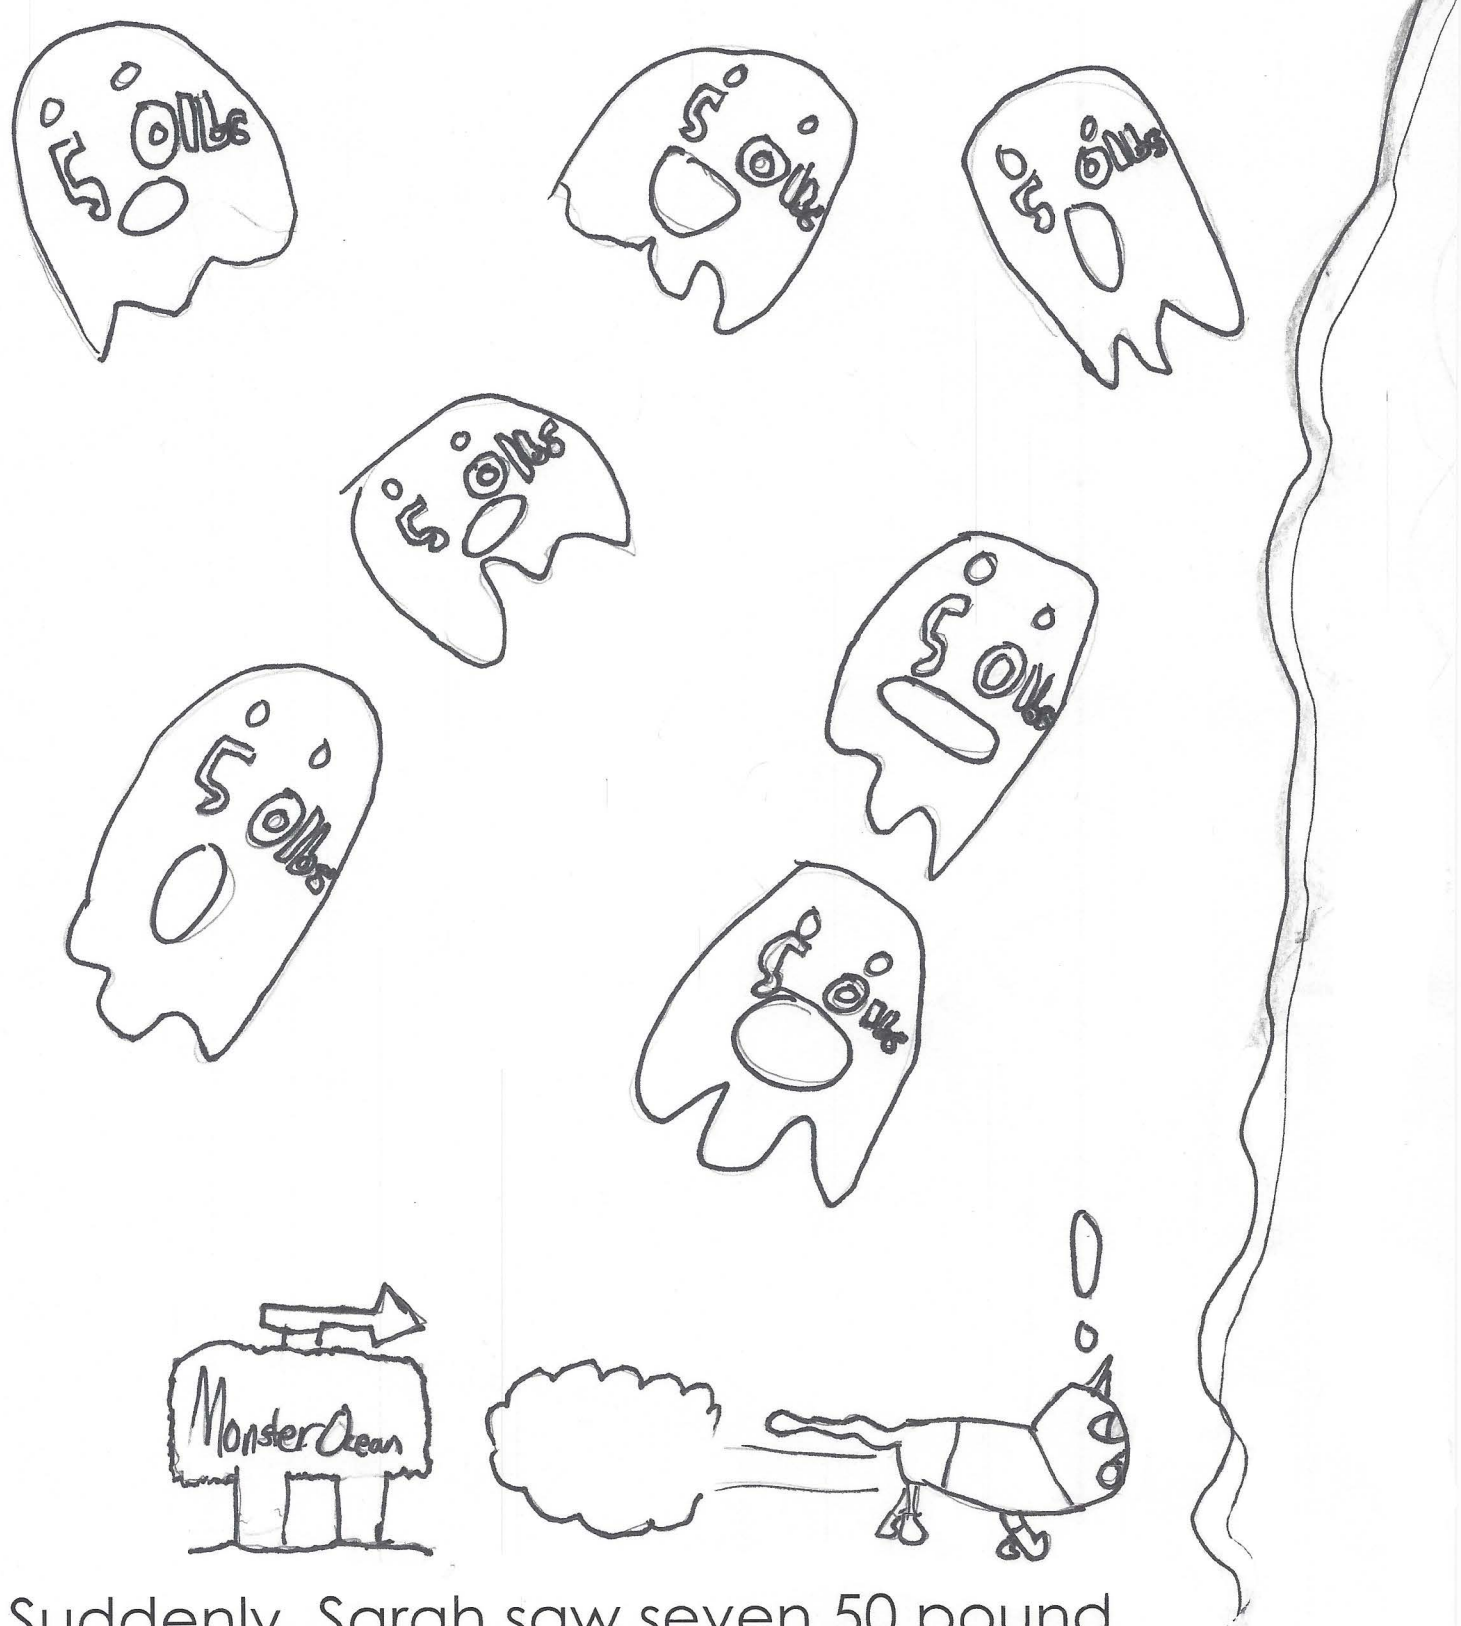

It was a winter night. Sarah put on her orange snow pants, her green coat and her black snow boots and she waved goodbye to Sparkles.

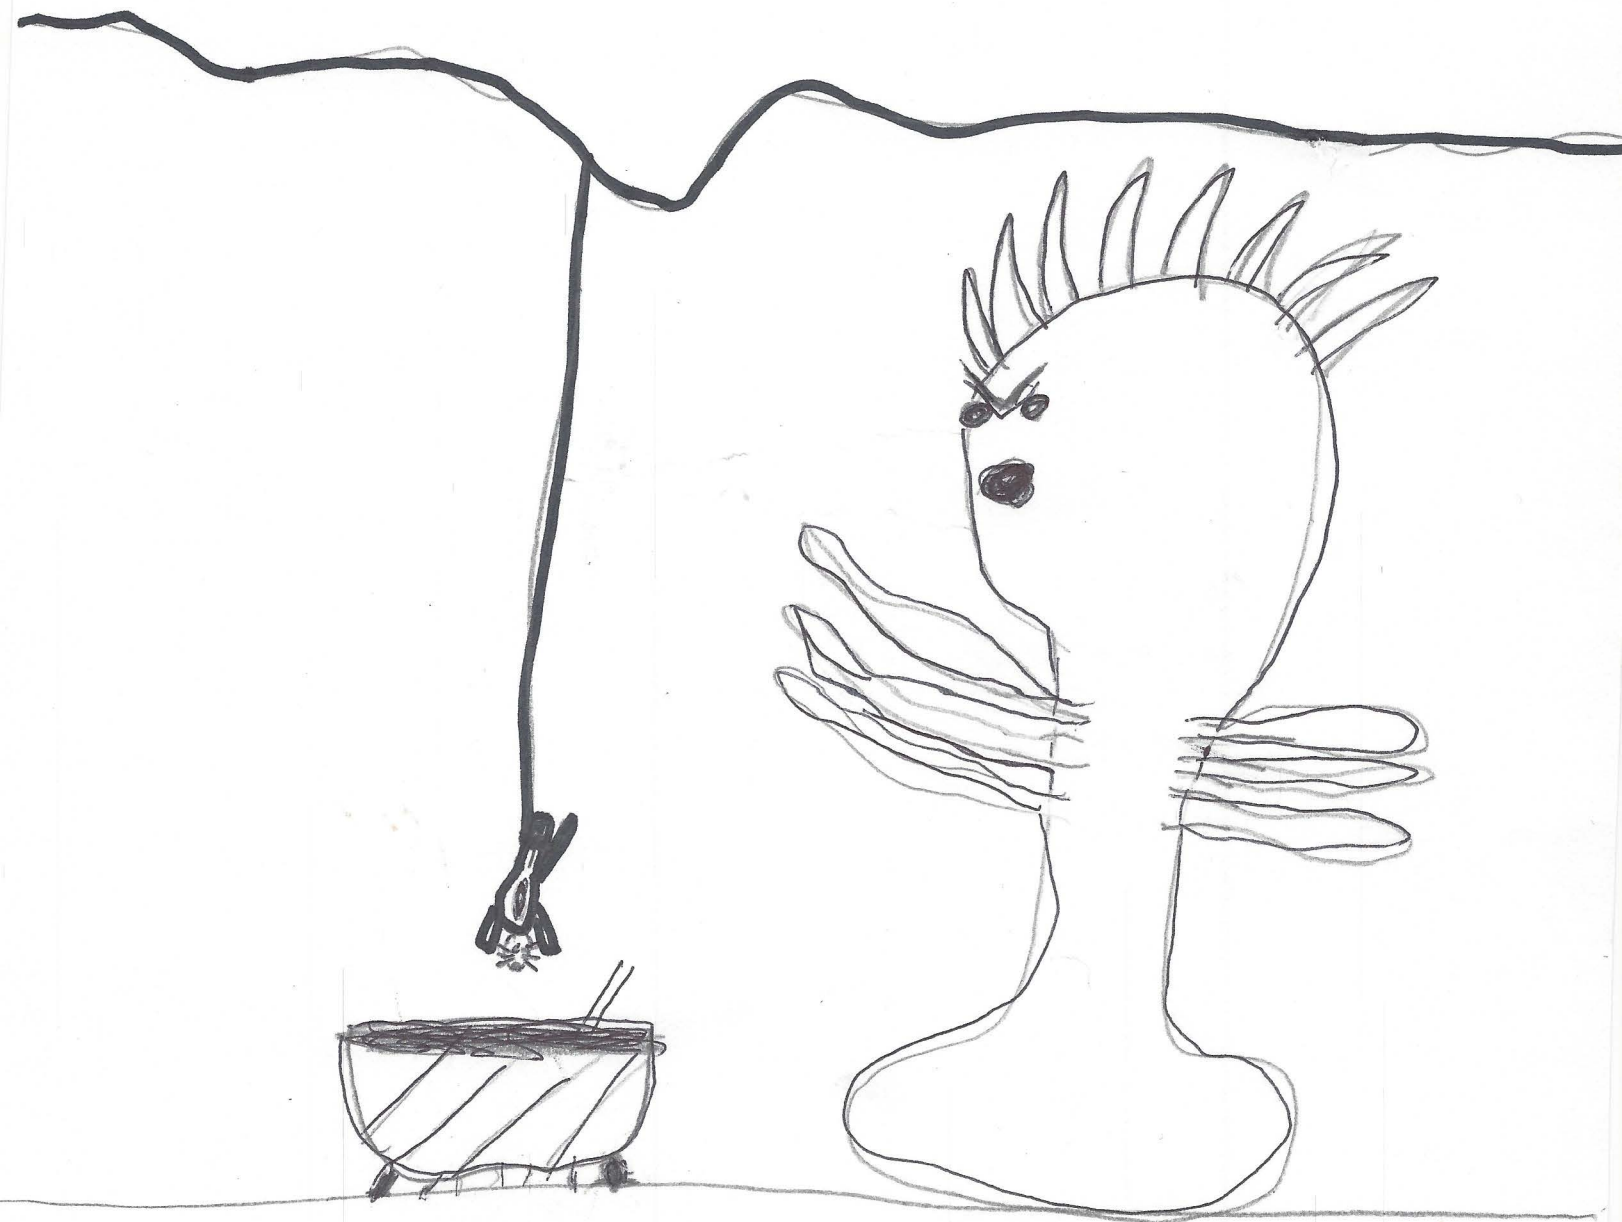

There was lots of snow. She felt cold. The stars looked like a great, big dinosaur in the sky.

Sarah walked for 10 hours, then she stopped to eat her dinner. She had pizza for dinner.

Suddenly, Sarah saw seven 50 pound ghosts! She got so scared, she ran right into Monster Ocean!

Just then, a big monster who had just escaped, used his net to trap her. "I'm going to cook you with hot pepper and put you in some chicken noodle soup!" He roared.

Thinking quickly, Sarah told her best joke.
She said, "Knock Knock!"
The monster said, "Who's there?"
"Lettuce." Said Sarah.
"Lettuce who?" Asked the monster.
"Let us in! It's cold out here!" Sarah shouted.
The monster laughed so hard that milk came out of his nose.

Sarah started to run away 100 miles a minute. The monster tried to chase her, but Sarah hid behind a bush and got away.

It only took 35 minutes more to get to Harley the Dragon's Island. When she got there, Harley was just cleaning his claws.

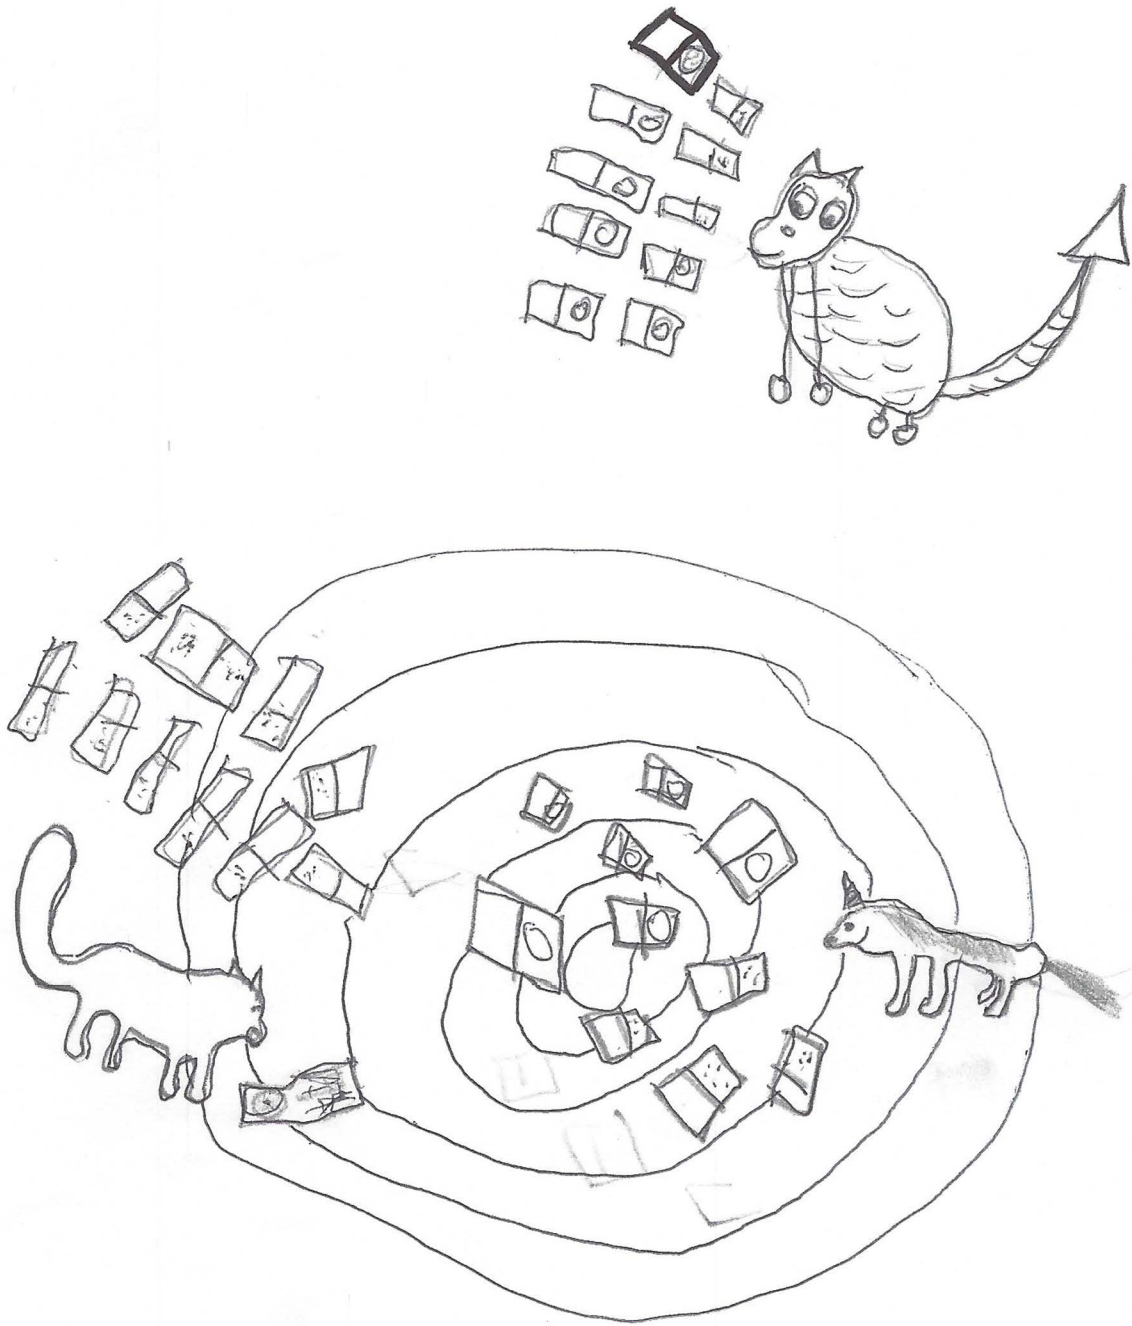

Harley gave Sarah a thimble full of Sparkles for only $2.49. Sarah said, "Thank you."

Harley flew Sarah back home because she was so polite. It only took 10 minutes.

When they got to the pink castle, Sparkles invited the dragon for dinner. Harley said, "Of course."

That night, Sarah was really hungry so they ate 10 pizzas each. But Sarah was still hungry.

Sparkle said, "I can make you some chicken soup."

Sarah said, "No WAY! and she told them the story about the monster."
